SinoCorrugated 2019 is a professional trade show for corrugated equipment, technologies and trends. Together with SinoFoldingCarton 2019, China Packaging Container Expo 2019, SinoFlexpack 2019 and SinoPaper 2019. The event is connecting the corrugated industry to the future and will bring together over 1100 exhibitors and 80000+ visitors, showcasing 1800 pieces of corrugated manufacturing equipment as well as 1200 kinds of consumables. As a powerful and efficient channel it serves box manufacturers to make efficient purchasing decisions and to learn about new products, cutting edge technologies and market dynamics in order to enable solution for the most efficient performance within their business.

Moreover SinoCorrugated 2019 will share cutting-edge information and technology of the industry; the comprehensive exhibits categories consist of integrated corrugated and folding carton manufacturing equipment, post-print equipment technology and consumables as well as a vast collection of packaging container designs and production materials in order to provide energy saving as well as other highly efficient production solutions for corrugated box manufacturers. The concurrent exhibition will help corrugated box manufacturers to evaluate the feasibility of potential business expansion to the folding carton market. Meetings with R & D as well as procurement decision makers can additionally enlarge networks and further business opportunities.

Based on more than 17 years of constant development, SinoCorrugated has won the reputation as one of the leading corrugated manufacturing shows worldwide in terms of its vast scale and grand impact. Reed Exhibitions will again proudly present SinoCorrugated 2019 to boost the development of the international corrugated industry.

The Origins of SinoCorrugated

SinoCorrugated is not only one of the well-known professional shows in the corrugated box industry, it is also one of the fastest growing one among all. The first ever edition of this corrugated show took place in 2001 that had gathered 171 exhibitors who were all corrugated product manufacturing equipment suppliers. After more than 17 years, SinoCorrugated attracted more than 1100 exhibitors, a number which is estimated to largely increase in 2019.
